

Welcome Hank!

Hank is SAGE's new Facility Dog. A facility dog is an expertly trained dog who partners with a facilitator working in the child advocacy center, or out in the field responding to requests for support. Northwest Assistance Dogs' facility dogs are trustworthy and work in professional environments and can perform over 40 commands designated to motivate and inspire clients, and offer a sense of control to those who have experienced abuse, trauma, or who have witnessed violence.

Hank was trained and selected by Northwest Assistance Dogs to work with children who visit our agency. When available, Hank can visit with your child and you during your visit to SAGE.

Hank loves kids, belly rubs and treats. He is looking forward to meeting you!
